

our mission and core values

Why Fragrance Science?

The proposition of Fragrance Science is based upon motivation, values and beliefs. In everything we do we apply our core values of passion, creativity and technology. At Fragrance Science it has always been our mission to maintain the perfect balance between the creative development of our fragrances and the most cutting edge technology. The marriage between pure emotions and rational thought. These are the pillars of our existence. It defines why we do what we do.

our goal

What do we do?

Fragrance Science is specialized in the production of fine and industrial fragrances, adapted to the great variety of applications in which they are used: Home Care, Fabric Care, Personal Care and Fine Perfumery. Today, we are present in 60 different countries: in particular we export our fragrance creations to the Middle East, North-Africa and Asia. We are also present in Europe and Latin America.

Our goal is to provide excellence throughout our entire chain of service to our customers: Client Relations, Research, Creation, Regulatory, Production, Quality, Logistics and After Sales.

our vision

How do we do it?

The team of international experts at Fragrance Science share a clear vision: to create exclusive olfactory experiences through longlasting, trustful relations with clients worldwide.

Our policy of respecting our customers, together with dynamicity and flexibility have enabled us to grow continuously and move forward with optimism.

In order to offer the quickest and highest quality service to our clients, we have been investing steadily in the complete automatization of our production process: from our laboratories to our production plant.

It is our priority to provide total transparency on the quality of our products, in order to meet the expectations of our customers and to comply with regulatory requirements.

Our team of chemical engineers, regulatory experts and quality control managers work together to make sure that every step of our strict Quality Control System is followed. Starting with the selection of raw materials that come from projects that sustain local economy and support biodiversity. Ending with the control of the finished product and delivery to the client.

Fragrance Science is committed to excellence. We continuously improve the effectiveness of our processes, with the intention to achieve the highest final customer satisfaction while respecting our customer's requirements, the environment and legal reglementaries.

Toni Cabal
PRESIDENT